

Attention Banta Parents

Technology is a key component of Common Core's blending learning approach, but for some parents having a computer and web access is something they simply cannot afford. Comcast will provide internet access for a reduced rate for those who qualify. Parents can also purchase and finance a discounted computer for $149.99 through the program. Parents can request an application at (855)846-8376 or apply online at:
